SOME INSIDE HISTORY TOLD BY LORIMER

Interesting Sidelines on the Recent Political Events in Sucker
State.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Senator Lorimer's testimony before the senate investigating committee was continued today.

Mr. Lorimer testified that his only expenses in his campaign for senator were traveling and hotel bills.

"Did Edward Hines ever see you about your campaign fund?" asked Senator Johnson.

"Once he suggested that I go and see Clarence Funk, general manager of the International Harvester company, and I told him that would be no use, as Funk always had been my bitter enemy."

Funk has testified that Hines asked him to give $10,000 toward a $100,000 fund, which he said Hines claimed to have spent at Springfield, "putting Lorimer over."

Senator Lorimer told of other meetings with Hines, but questioning did not establish that Hines had contributed to any fund of which Lorimer had knowledge. The International Harvester company's alleged opposition to Senator Lorimer was brought up and discussed at length.

Mr. Lorimer related his opposition to a plan which the company favored to build a fixed bridge across the west branch of the Chicago river.

"If that stream had been blocked by a fixed bridge the Harvester company's railroad would have had a monopoly on all freight which originated in the immense factory district above that point. I opposed that and blocked it," said Senator Lorimer.

The two perjury trials of Lee O'Neil Browne who was accused of bribing Illinois legislators to vote for Lorimer, were referred to.

"The real purpose of the fight on Browne," said Lorimer, "is to upset me in the senate. I lent him about $10,000 with which to defend himself. I never took his notes nor any security because I felt that he was being attacked on my account."

"I was convinced that the Tribune had bought the testimony they used against Browne, that the purpose of using it was the basis of an attempt to put me out of the senate. I am convinced that the whole machinery of the state attorney's office was used to destroy and not to put Browne in the penitentiary. I believe the Chicago Tribune suborned the perjury of White, Beckmeyer and Hostlaw. And I am convinced that neither Browne nor any one else ever paid any money over for me."

MEMBER OF HOUSE LOSES HIS TEMPER

Washington, Jan. 13.—A battle of words between Representative Ben Johnson of Kentucky and Martin B. Madden of Illinois in the House today, while the district of Columbia appropriation bill was under discussion, nearly resulted in blows.

Mr. Johnson objected to $360 for a motorcycle for elevator inspectors, and Mr. Madden immediately accused him of endangering the lives of people who might ride on elevators which inspectors had been unable to examine.

"The other day the gentleman from Illinois, however," retorted Representative Johnson, "undertook to prevent giving protection to women and children in crossing street car tracks in order to save money for a corporation."

"The gentleman is mistaken. I am here to defend no corporation," rejoined Mr. Madden.

"If this were a corporation whose assets were assailed," pursued the Kentuckian excitedly, "I doubt not that the gentleman from Illinois would come in here now and ask for its protection."

"I take exception to the statement of the gentleman from Kentucky," shouted Mr. Madden.

"Take exception to my statements outside," answered Mr. Johnson advancing into the middle aisle.

"I am no prizefighter," snapped Mr. Madden.

"Come out there now," insisted Johnson, "A coward can sit down and laugh."

Friends intervened and later the two men exchanged apologies. The motorcycle appropriation got through, but the passage of the bill was deferred until Monday.

Worthy Object.

BLIZZARD IS SWEEPING IN TO THE GULF

Weather Condition in Middle West
The Worst in Twenty Years—Train
Service in Chaotic Condition—
New Storm Center Develops.

Kansas City, Jan. 13.—Not in twenty-five years has the southwest experienced such severe winter conditions as those of last night and early today. Although the blizzard which swept Kansas, northern Oklahoma and southern Missouri yesterday at forty miles an hour has abated the mercury today dropped to the lowest point of the season. Twenty degrees below zero was registered here at 8 o'clock today. Conditions in western Kansas were the worst since 1886.

Train service on all western lines was in a chaotic condition and on some roads was temporarily abandoned. The whole southwest, after almost three weeks of extreme winter coupled with gas and transportation famine faced a situation which, unless conditions improve within a few days will be desperate.

Swamped by appeals for aid, the heaviest since its organization, the Kansas City Provident association issued an announcement that unless more contributions were received immediately starvation and freezing among dependents would result. Thousands are without employment in the city.

Record breaking temperatures extended throughout the Missouri valley. Sioux City felt a temperature of 33 degrees below zero. At Omaha and Lincoln it was 25 degrees below zero.

The Kansas state utilities commission and the railroads today joined in an effort to improve conditions in the western towns and communities isolated on blockade branch lines.

Farmers take Advantage of Situation.

Reports from Junction City, Kan., say that despite the intense cold farmers are drawing their wheat fifteen miles through deep snow in order to take advantage of present good prices. A schoolhouse near Junction City was destroyed by fire today. Teacher and pupils saved the contents. Two children were so badly frozen that their condition is dangerous.

Temperatures reached the lowest point yesterday in Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Iowa and Missouri. The figure 20 below recorded here and the lowest January reading known to the bureau. Readings ranged from 6 below at Oklahoma City and 4 below at Amarillo Tex., to 42 below in Huron, S.D.

The cold wave today spread to the Texas coast, where Corpus Christi was startled by a temperature of 25 degrees, accompanied by a snowstorm driven by a high wind. Galveston recorded 24 degrees with a high north-west wind. Shreveport, La., had 20 degrees with snow.

INDIANS MAY RECEIVE MILLIONS AT LAST

About 2000 Ute Indians will be benefitted should the bill introduced in congress by Representative Martin of Colorado, at the request of the secretary of the treasury, pass. The bill provides for an appropriation of $3,305,000 to meet judgments secured last February in favor of the confederated bands of Ute Indians.

Major H. P. Myton, former Indian agent at White Rocks, Utah, said this afternoon that the Indians who would be benefitted would number about 2000, being members of the following Ute tribes: Southern Uncompaghe, White River and Uintah.

"The suits against the government," said Major Myton, "were the result of an agreement between the Ute Indians in Colorado and the government by which the government induced them to retire from their lands in Colorado and come to Utah, on the promise that the government would sell the land at not less than $1.25 an acre and turn the money over to the Indians as fast as it was sold. "Instead of attempting to sell any of the land the government turned it into a forest reserve. At the time of the agreement the Indians were given the right to hunt on any part of the land until it was sold. Later Colorado passed a law by which they were not permitted to hunt on the land."

"In 1897, K. Holden an Arkansas lawyer, made a deal with the Indians by which he was to push their claims, and in the event that he secured anything from the government was to receive 40 per cent for his trouble. Holden has done little else for several years than to push the claims of the Indians against the government."

"Last February the Indians were awarded judgment in a sum of something over $3,000,000."

DR. WEBSTER ENTERS PLEA OF "GUILTY"

Illinois Physician Confesses Murder of His Wife Last September—Defense
Offers no Witness in Trial—Prosecution Offers Several.

Oregon, Ill., Jan. 13.—Dr. Harry E. Webster pleaded guilty to murder in the Ogle county court here today on the first anniversary of his marriage to Bessie Kent Webster, whom, by his own confession, he killed near here last September. Webster withdrew a plea of not guilty, previously made by him.

Webster was charged with murdering his wife in a wood between Dixon and Polo, Ill., last fall. Webster's attorney's said they would place no witnesses on the stand.

Despite this announcement State's Attorney Emerson and Sheriff DeLaney, were prepared with witnesses and documentary evidence to submit what they termed an "air tight case against the young physician."

Attorney John E. Edwin of Webster's counsel, in a brief statement after the defendant was taken before Judge Farrand, announced formally that his client desired to enter the plea of guilty. Webster then made the plea of guilty in person.

Acts of Own Free Will.

Judge Farrand asked Webster if defendant understood that he was entitled to trial by jury and if the plea of guilty was made with Webster's own free will.

SUMMONS.

In the District Court of the First Judicial District, of the State of Utah in and for the County of Cache.

Ida Pearl Hanson, plaintiff vs. Joseph Hanson, defendant.

The State of Utah to the said defendant: You are hereby summoned to appear within twenty days after the service of this summons upon you, if served within the county in which this action is brought, otherwise within thirty days after service, and defend the above entitled action; and in case of your failure so to do, judgment will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint which has been filed with the clerk of said court. This action is brought to dissolve the bonds of matrimony heretofore existing between the plaintiff and the defendant, and to have awarded to plaintiff the minor children, issue of the marriage.

I. Z. STEWART, JR.,
Attorney for plaintiff: Address: Logan City, Utah.

Read "The Pool of Flame" which will commence soon.

To each question Webster replied "yes."
After he had entered his plea Webster seated himself at the side of his mother, who wept quietly throughout the proceedings.
State's Attorney Emerson placed witnesses on the stand to present certain features of the state's case.
Dr. L. M. Griffin, who made an examination of Mrs. Webster's body, testified that Mrs. Webster's death was due to a knife wound in the neck which had severed the jugular vein. He also described an operation which he said had been performed on Mrs. Webster some time before her death.

ARIZONA IRISHMAN REFUSES HAND OF FAMOUS ENGLISH NOVELIST

Prescott, Ariz., Jan. 13.—Sir Gilbert Parker, the English novelist and member of parliament, who has been visiting here, met with a unique rebuff today at the Arizona pioneer home.

All of the inmates of the home, many of them grizzled old survivors of the exciting early days of Arizona, have been presented to the novelist excepting James O'Donnell, a veteran, and one of the earliest settlers of the new state. When O'Donnell was introduced he asked:

"Are you English?"

"Yes," replied the visitor.

"Then I won't shake hands," announced O'Donnell. "I am Irish."

"But I am half-Irish myself," protested Sir Gilbert. "Shake hands."

"I will never shake hands as long as there is a drop of English blood in your veins," roared the pioneer.

Sir Gilbert laughed good-naturedly, saying he would have a good story for T. P. O'Connor at home, but Major Doran, superintendent of the home, reported the incident to Governor Sloan and to the chief of staff of the army in Washington.

Merely an Incident.

Mr. Farwell—"I met my old schoolmate, Lakeside, today, for the first time in an age, and I thought from the way he acted when I mentioned you, that you and he must have had some romance or other before we met." Mrs. Farwell—"No romance about it. We were married for a few years, that's all."—New York Mirror.
